Chapter 1 General provisions

§ 1. Scope of application

(1) The Regulation lays down the conditions and procedure for the admission of applicants to bachelor's, integrated, master's and professional higher education studies at Tallinn University of Technology (hereinafter referred to as "the university").

(2) For the purposes of this Regulation, the terms set out below have the following meanings:

- 1) "Student applicant" means a person applying for admission to degree studies.
- 2) "International student applicant" means a student applicant who has neither Estonian citizenship nor a long-term Estonian residence permit nor a permanent right of residence.
- 3) "Admission requirements" means the conditions governing admission on a competitive basis and the admission thresholds established annually for study programmes by a decision of the University Senate for admission to first- and second-cycle studies. Admission to second-cycle studies is also subject to prior education requirements. In justified cases, the Senate may also establish a maximum number of students to be admitted to a study programme (hereinafter referred to as "the admission limit"), taking particular account of teaching quality and the resources required to deliver the programme. If an admission limit is established for a study programme, places shall be allocated according to a ranking list based on applicants' results under the admission requirements. [entry into force 18.11.2022]
- 4) "Threshold" means the minimum score required under the admission requirements of the relevant study programme to guarantee admission to that programme. The result required for applying, i.e. the application threshold, is the minimum score required to submit an application. Applicants who meet this threshold shall be offered places in rank order until the admission limit for the study programme is reached. [entry into force 18.11.2022]
- 5) "Special admission condition" means a criterion that, when met, entitles an applicant to admission to a university study programme (except architecture) without being subject to the admission requirements for that programme.
- 6) "Matriculation" means the admission of an applicant to the university as a student, from which point the person acquires the rights and obligations arising from the Higher Education Act and other legislation.

- 7) "Re-matriculation" means the re-entry of a person on the student register to continue studies on the same study programme. Re-matriculation is governed by the Academic Policies established by the University Senate.
- 8) "Additional matriculation" means matriculation through a School.
- 9) "Repeat matriculation" means undertaking studies again at the same level of higher education.
- 10) "General requirements for application" mean the requirements concerning the admission application, supporting documents, prior education and language proficiency.
- 11) "Supplementary requirements for application" mean the requirements that apply to international applicants in addition to the general requirements for application. Under these requirements, international applicants shall submit paper documents to the university in the prescribed form and by the prescribed deadline and pay a one-off fee for processing their admission documents. Applicants from outside the European Union and the European Economic Area shall also pay the tuition fee for the first academic year in advance.
- 12) Admission to a joint or double degree programme established under a cooperation agreement shall be considered equivalent to admission to a degree programme at Tallinn University of Technology. [entry into force 08.10.2024]

§ 2. Admission and terms and conditions of competition

A student who has been admitted under these conditions or has applied for and received a place allocated to athletes shall be exempt from tuition fees. [entry into force 30.11.2023]
- (6) The number of student places shall be determined by the number of applicants who have exceeded the threshold or by the admission limit established for the study programme. [entry into force 18.11.2022]
- (7) An international applicant who wishes to study in an Estonian-language study programme shall demonstrate his/her proficiency in Estonian by presenting a certificate attesting to at least B2-level proficiency or by successfully completing the university's Estonian language test. An international applicant who meets the requirements of § 8 of the Regulation must, as a prerequisite for applying to an Estonian-language study programme, demonstrate his/her proficiency in Estonian as specified in this section.
